CONSERVATIVE ERIC EARLY
ANNOUNCES CHALLENGE TO ADAM
SCHIFF, CA-28

Early Calls Schiff A National Disgrace And Vows To Hold Him Accountable For Damaging America.

LOS ANGELES, CA – July 10 – Today, Eric Early announced his candidacy for Congress in California’s 28th District. Conservative Republican Eric Early, a successful private attorney and proud father, will challenge Schiff and hold him accountable for wasting taxpayer resources, misleading the public, failing to address and completely ignoring the serious problems that plague our community like skyrocketing homelessness, the extraordinary cost of living, out of control taxation and more.

Eric Early stated, “Schiff is a national disgrace. His sole focus has been on trying to destroy a President. I plan to hold him accountable for his misdeeds and blatant self-interest.”

“He’s been in elected office for 23 years and has nothing to show for it other than vanity clips on national television and tens of millions of wasted taxpayer dollars. Our community is crumbling while Schiff lies to us about supposed Russian Collusion. Homelessness has skyrocketed on his watch. Every day Californian’s cost of living is out of control. Crime is on the rise and Schiff, by his actions and inaction, shows that he couldn’t care less,” continued Early.

“I’m taking the fight directly to Schiff... to hold him accountable, for the people,” Early concluded.

Chief Strategist for Eric Early's campaign, John Thomas, said, "Our campaign is gearing up on behalf of every American to send a message that we deserve better than another self-serving politician who will say or do anything to feather his own nest. We look forward to running an aggressive campaign to defeat Shady Schiff in November."

Meet Eric

For 25 years, Eric has fought in the courts to help people stay in their homes and help job creators, businesses and innovators succeed and stay in California while building his own successful law firm. Eric is a leading Republican candidate for Congress in California's 28th District running against Rep. Adam Schiff and was a candidate in 2018 for California Attorney General against Xavier Becerra, receiving almost one million votes as a first-time candidate.

As with so many Californians, Eric's parents immigrated to the United States in the 1930s. His father was born in Austria and his mother in Poland. His father enlisted in the Marine Corps at the age of 17, and was shipped to the Korean War, fought in the First Marine Division at the Battle of Chosin Reservoir, and was awarded a Purple Heart. Eric's parents moved the family to Long Island, and lived in a middle-class neighborhood of Irish, Italian and Jewish families.

Growing up in New York, California was a symbol of the American Dream, a place where people's imagination, drive, talents and hard work could allow them to live a good life, while enjoying California's natural beauty and climate. California became Eric's home in 1986, where he started his own family.

Eric's career as an attorney did not follow the usual path. He attended New York University's undergraduate film school, and then held various positions, including producing commercials for Hasbro Toys, directed short children's films for The Great Space Coaster, working as post-production supervisor on hundreds of animated episodes of The Transformers, G.I. Joe, Jem and the Holograms, My Little Pony, and wrote several animated episodes of G.I. Joe and Jem and the Holograms. At one point, he produced trailers for "King of the B-Movies", Roger Corman.

While working full time to support his family, Eric attended Southwestern Law School's evening program and after graduation worked at one of the most prominent law firms in the state, where he was a Partner for a decade. Eric was regularly involved in complex litigation matters in California and throughout the country, primarily focusing on business, entertainment, real estate, title and escrow related litigation. In 2010, Eric started his own firm along with several of his colleagues, Early Sullivan Wright Gizer & McRae LLP ("Early Sullivan"). Early Sullivan, which now has 30 attorneys, has been recognized as Boutique Firm of the Year by the California Daily Journal, and has been named as a Best Law Firm by U.S. News and World Report. He has been the firm's Managing Partner since its doors opened, has successfully tried several cases to verdict – one of the results being awarded Defense Verdict of the Year by the Daily Journal, and has overseen countless complex lawsuits in which the firm's clients have prevailed. During the normal course of his practice, Eric has also handled several cases in which he has represented homeowners whose properties have been victimized by real estate fraud, in which fraudsters literally try to steal their homes. He has been able to regain control of the properties for his clients.

Among various honors, Eric is the Past President of Southwestern Law School's Entertainment and IP Alumni Association, was selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America 2017 for Real Estate Litigation and in 2018 for Commercial Litigation; Real Estate Litigation; and Entertainment Law. Eric has been named a Southern California Super Lawyer every year since 2005 and has been included in Super Lawyers Business Edition every year since it began publishing in 2013.
