Subject: Local women elected to Congress, State Legislature, Board of Supervisors, City Councils and School Boards endorse Mike Eng for State Senate District 22

Local women elected to Congress, State Legislature, Board of Supervisors, City Councils and School Boards endorse Mike Eng for State Senate District 22

Headlined by Congresswomen Grace Napolitano, Norma Torres, Julia Brownley, Karen Bass and of course Judy Chu, State Senate candidate Mike Eng announced a list of dozens of local women leaders who have joined to support his campaign for State Senate. Mike, an experienced educator, attorney and public servant, is running to succeed Senator Ed Hernandez in the San Gabriel Valley's 22nd District.

"I'm proud to be supported by a broad coalition of groundbreaking local elected leaders," Eng said. "I've worked with many on critical issues ranging from reproductive rights, equality in health care, protecting and enforcing Title IX and many other issues." "I'm especially honored to have earned the endorsements of so many LOCAL leaders," Eng concluded.

In addition to the local Congresswomen, Mike is supported by all three women on the L.A. Board of Supervisors who represent the San Gabriel Valley (Hilda Solis, Janice Hahn, Kathryn Barger); State Controller Betty Yee and Board of Equalization Member Fiona Ma; State Senators Connie Leyva, Toni Atkins, Cathleen Galgiani, Carol Liu (ret.), Fran Pavley (ret.), Lois Wolk (ret.); and dozens of local City Council and School Board Members, including:
