Malia Cohen Earns the Majority of Delegate Votes at Democratic Convention

SAN DIEGO -- Sunday, February 25, 2018 -- Today, San Francisco Supervisor Malia Cohen announced that she earned the majority of delegates' votes at the California Democratic Convention this weekend - bringing in 52% of votes in her race for the Board of Equalization, District 2.

"I'm honored to be supported by so many enthusiastic delegates in my race for the BOE," said Cohen. "These Democrats know that the time to level the playing field is now. Californians can count on me to ruffle a few feathers, just as I have done proudly for San Francisco. I am incredibly proud of the work that we did this weekend, the number of voters that we spoke with about important policy issues, and the support that we received from Democrats around the state."

While many statewide endorsement votes remain without consensus on an endorsement, Cohen's campaign is one of the few who racked up a majority of votes, bringing in 1371 votes totaling 52%.
