CA49: After Impressive First Quarter, Sara Jacobs Posts Large Cash-on-Hand

Sara Jacobs for Congress released their first fundraising numbers for the campaign. After entering the race in mid-November, Jacobs raised over $300,000 in just six weeks from supporters. Sara Jacobs for Congress will post raising over $1.3 million last quarter, including a $1 million contribution from the candidate, bringing the campaign's cash on hand to well over $1.2 million.

"The only way Democrats start holding Donald Trump accountable is by winning back the House in 2018, and to do that, we must win back this seat -- and Sara's campaign will have the resources needed to do it. Sara has always been up front about the fact that the campaign will be financed with a combination of money raised from supporters and from her own personal contributions, because when you consider the millions that Trump's team is going to pour into this District, Democrats better be ready to compete," said Chelsea Brossard, Campaign Manager. "Anyone who is paying attention knows that 2018 is going to be the year of the woman - and with Sara Jacobs, we have a candidate who is not only energizing women and young people, but will have the resources it takes to communicate with voters and win."

Earlier this week, Jacobs launched her first TV ad - which is currently airing on CNN, MSNBC and on broadcast news networks in the San Diego media market. Link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iUEpwDrSgnY>
