CYPRESS, Calif. – Today, 65th Assembly candidate Dr. Alexandria Coronado announced the official endorsement of the Hispanic 100 PAC; an organization who promotes the Latino community by encouraging leadership and successes from within the Hispanic population. Dr. Coronado has received overwhelming support in her Assembly bid including the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association, the Republican Party of Orange County, the California Republican Assembly, and the California Women's Leadership Association.

“Alexandria Coronado has proven herself to be an advocate for the Latino community,” said Hispanic 100 Chairman Mario Rodriguez. “Not only is she a true fiscal conservative, but she also understands how poor policies and misguided legislation in Sacramento are affecting many middle and lower-class families throughout the state. We are confident Alexandria will promote common-sense solutions to many of the challenges we face today.”

“I am so honored to receive the endorsement of the Hispanic 100 PAC,” said 65th Assembly candidate Dr. Alexandria Coronado. “I was not only born and raised in the district, but I represent the heart of the district, too. I am a Hispanic, single mother and small business owner who understands the daily struggles caused by failed leadership in Sacramento. When I am elected, I will work diligently to protect the struggling families, the single mothers, and the small business owners.”

Dr. Coronado has received endorsements from highly influential leaders and organizations such as but not limited to; State Senator John Moorlach, OC Board of Education Member Dr. Ken Williams, OC Supervisor Michelle Steel, Congressman Dana Rohrabacher, former Assemblywoman Young Kim, Assemblyman Matthew Harper, Congressman Ed Royce, and the Orange County Republican Party. Her longevity of community involvement and public service includes being a former two-time President on the Orange County Board of Education and a former Member of the Council of Urban Boards of Education Board of Directors. In addition, she has served as Treasurer for the University of Southern California's Thornton Alumni Association and was elected as a Trustee on the Anaheim Union High School District Board. As a single mother and small business owner, Dr. Coronado is committed to providing opportunities for the future of California’s 65th District and protecting those constituents Sacramento has put at a disadvantage.
