New Janz Ad: Nunes and Washington “Not Working” for the Central Valley

Fresno, CA (September 19th, 2018) - The Andrew Janz for Congress campaign released a new ad today for television and digital, targeting Devin Nunes for taking nearly 1 million dollars from big banks and voting to privatize Social Security. Andrew Janz sends a direct message to Devin Nunes saying “your time is up, you’ve had your chance.” Devin Nunes has been in office for nearly two decades and hasn’t passed one piece of legislation for the people of the Central Valley.

Andrew Janz was raised in Visalia and is running for Congress against Devin Nunes in California’s 22nd Congressional District. Andrew’s campaigning on water for the valley, more jobs, social security and Medicaid, and fighting corruption in Washington. Andrew Janz is 34 years old and resides in Fresno with his wife Heather and their two dogs.

Devin Nunes is the 8 term incumbent for California Congressional District 22 who became a national lightning rod after his midnight trip to the White House in 2017. Most recently Devin Nunes has come under national and local scrutiny for his most recent ethical missteps in spending thousands of campaign dollars on Boston Celtics tickets, wine tours, and Las Vegas getaways.
