Subject: Thought this might interest you: Josh Lowenthal will show $418K raised in last period and $540K on hand

Josh Lowenthal raises more than $400,000 in last reporting period

Enters last month of campaign with more than $500,000 on hand

Leads Republican opponent in recent polling

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AD 72 - Josh Lowenthal will show over $418,000 raised since July 1st, and enters the critical final month of the campaign with nearly $550,000 cash on hand.

Lowenthal's campaign has been on television, in the mail, and in the field since the beginning of September. He is now well positioned to close with voters.

Recent polling by Goodwin/Simon Research shows Lowenthal with a significant and growing lead in the district:

- Lowenthal starts with a 4% point lead, 47% to 43% based on ballot designation alone
- That lead doubles to 51% to 43% with short, positive paragraphs
- After more information, Lowenthal leads by 17%.

Furthermore, the poll shows:

- Lowenthal starts with a lead among likely voters and expands it considerably when voters are given more information
- Independents, which make up nearly a quarter of the electorate, break decisively for Lowenthal
- Trump and his policies are a drag on the Republican candidate
- Diep was badly damaged in his primary and has nearly fatal negatives going into the general
