NextGen California Calls Out Steve Knight for Lying About Donations from the NRA

Yesterday, Mother Jones reported that Rep. Steve Knight (CA-25) claimed he hasn't received any NRA donations this election cycle, when in fact, he has received $4,000 in campaign contributions from the NRA since May 2018. In response, NextGen California State Youth Director Raul Preciado released the following statement:

"It appears that Rep. Steve Knight has finally realized that his constituents want a leader who will stand up to the NRA and protect their children. Unfortunately for him, voters see through this facade — his record clearly shows that he is beholden to the NRA's agenda. In November, voters will not forget his ties to an organization that has hindered the protection of school children for so long. It is time to elect a representative that is honest about their record and their values."
