“Fortunate Son” Gavin Newsom Has More Ties to Oil Fortunes – This Time, Deep in the Heart of... Texas?

California – A new post today on the “Gavin Newsom, Fortunate Son” website highlights Newsom’s deep ties to Texas oil riches that have benefited the Fortunate Son dating back 20 years.

According to the new post, Newsom has deep ties to James Meeker, a wealthy oil heir whose Meeker Investments, Inc. owns “Oil and Gas Leases” in Texas.

“These additional ties to oil and gas come after we shared with you last week that Newsom and his wife, Jennifer Siebel Newsom, were investors in the Deepwater Horizon oil rig that was involved in the BP oil underwater explosion which spilled more than 3 million barrels of oil, making it the worst accidental oil spill in history,” continues the Fortunate Son post.

“Whether underwater offshore oil rigs, or ‘Texas Tea,’ it sure seems that Newsom has an appetite for oil – and he has profited handsomely from oil both personally as an investor, as well as in financial campaign contributions from the country’s oil-rich millionaires and billionaires,” concludes the new post.
