Governor Newsom endorses Josh Becker for State Senate

The Josh Becker for State Senate campaign announced a significant endorsement today – Governor Gavin Newsom.

“I am honored to have Governor Newsom’s endorsement,” said Becker, who is running in California State Senate District 13 in the San Francisco Bay Area. “The Governor’s support is very meaningful to my campaign.”

Governor Newsom said, “Josh is a long-time, dedicated community leader and I look forward to continuing to work with him on key issues of education, housing, transportation, and the environment.”

Josh Becker is known as a community leader developing and supporting innovative public policy ideas helping all residents of the Bay Area in the areas of education, the environment, affordable housing/transportation, and health.

As CBS News reported, “Josh is passionate about education, the environment, and closing the income gap ... connecting non-profits with individuals looking to make a difference.”

Josh is nationally recognized for his innovative work to advance math and science in public schools. And it was Josh Becker who founded the Resistance Fund to oppose the Trump agenda.

“Josh Becker has earned my confidence and endorsement,” concluded the Governor.

Senate District 13 is represented by Jerry Hill. Senator Hill cannot run again due to term limits. Four other candidates are also running for the seat. The District includes most of San Mateo County from the City of Brisbane to the northern portion of Santa Clara County all the way to Sunnyvale.
